Industrial Dispersal Spells Opportunity for Interior Cities

"It's an ill wind that blows nobody good" is the handiest of proverbs. For instance —

The interior cities of America have been hopelessly listening for a long time to plans to decentralize the major industries which are grouped for the most part around metropolitan centers. And now this decentralization has come about only in the most non-chalant manner.

And then there was a fearsome announcement: Soviet Russia not only has the secret of our hydrogen bomb — she actually built and exploded one.

At this point an Associated Press dispatch of a few days ago picks up the story:

"The Office of Defense Mobilization has been trying for about two years to convince the industrial community that when it comes to building new factories its good business to disperse them. Until two months ago, officials said, the going was slow. Then came Soviet Premier Malenkov's announcement that the United States no longer has a monopoly on production of the hydrogen bomb. That announcement cured a lot of scoffers, an OD man asserted."

The South has seen some new factories move in its direction the last decade. Arkansas got a few still more to neighboring Mississippi and Texas. But what all of us are primarily interested in is the strength and duration of this industrial relocation tide—for if it's big enough none of the Southern states can miss getting a certain share.

The development of the hydrogen bomb, grim as it is, and its further discovery in the hands of unfriendly Russia, seems to guarantee that the flow of industrial operations away from the big cities and into our sparsely-settled area will continue at an accelerated rate.

There are only two ways to protect manufacturing plants against enemy air raids: (1) By putting the plants underground; or (2) rebuilding them at points so far apart in this huge country of ours that enemy air fleets would find it impossible to locate and destroy any substantial percentage of them.

Obviously the cheapest, most sensible solution is dispersal of the plants. They could be rebuilt near their present sites around the big cities, of course, but this would be the most expensive course in the beginning and the unhandiest in the long run; you can't imagine American industrial workers reconciling themselves to a lifetime spent in a cave.

We used to think the 3,000-mile Atlantic ocean was the great bulwark of our defense, but now that atomic-speed bombers have struck it down we find we still have 3,000-mile America—a land big enough to hide our whole industrial civilization if properly dispersed.

Widow of Cotton Mill Founder Dies

MEMPHIS (AP) — Mrs. Frank G. Barton, widow of the founder of the F. G. Barton Cotton Co., here, died yesterday of a heart ailment.

A native of Little Rock, she married Barton when Crittenden County, Ark., sheriff, in 1896 and moved to the Barton plantation near Marion, Ark. Barton's cotton firm, still carried on by his sons, was founded in 1902.

The sons, Frank Jr., and Wilso, a daughter, Mrs. W. G. Curie of Jackson, Tenn., survive. Funeral services were to be held at the home here today.

Airliner Falls 3 Minutes From Base, 19 Lost

HALF MOON BAY, Calif. (UP) — A Trans-Pacific airliner, just three minutes from its destination after an 8,600 mile trip, crashed early today on the heavily-wooded slopes of a mountain range separating the ocean and an airport with 19 persons aboard.

The burning wreckage of the giant DC-6B was sighted by an Air Force helicopter pilot. Rescuers were dropped by parachute to the scene, half a mile west of scenic Skyline boulevard and about five miles southeast of this historic town.

There was no immediate report of survivors.

An air-sea rescue helicopter, with one medical attendant aboard, landed one-quarter of a mile from the scene. A C-47 from Hamilton Air Force Base arrived over the scene soon after and parachuted men.

The four-engined British Commonwealth Pacific Airlines plane, with a crew of nine and 10 passengers aboard, was enroute to San Francisco from Sydney, Australia, and was due to land at 8:45 a. m. PST.

Last contact with the plane was at 8:39 a. m. when it radioed it was readying for a normal landing and landing. It gave its position at the time as "over Half Moon Bay."

There was fog along the coast this morning, but visibility at the airport was nine miles, with a ceiling of 1,200 feet.

The plane left Sydney at 10 p. m. PST Tuesday and stopped enroute at Surra, Canton, Island and left Honolulu for the mainland last night.

The airlines, co-owned by British, New Zealand and Australia governments has been flying the Pacific for five years. This was its first crash.

Half Moon Bay, is approximately 35 miles southwest of San Francisco on the Pacific Coast. The airport at the small pioneer California city is an alternate landing base for planes when the San Francisco Airport is socked in by clouds or fog.

And on occasion a plane in trouble will choose the Half Moon Bay airport instead of taking a chance on clearing the low range of mountains separating the airport and the coast.

However, George Anderson, operations manager for the airline, said the big BCPA plane had not reported any trouble. It was last heard from at 8:39 a. m. PST when it radioed it was preparing for a landing. It was running almost an hour behind time, however, on flight from Honolulu.

Ceiling at the time of the radio report was a minimum of 1200 feet.

Haymes Claims He Didn't Evade Draft

LO SANGELES, Calif. (UP) — Crooner Dick Haymes, facing possible deportation to his native Argentina, contended today that he never had any intention of evading military service during World War II.

Haymes left his bride, Rita Hayworth, behind in Las Vegas, Nev., while he resumed his fight against charges he re-entered the United States illegally after courtier her in Hawaii last May.

He said yesterday that "missing documents" could bear out his contention.

He declared he rescinded a claim for exemption from the draft shortly after he signed it in 1944 on grounds he was a citizen of a neutral country, Argentina.

The Justice Department has said the claim made the 34-year-old singer in alien ineligible for U.S. citizenship. Immigration authorities have said such persons are barred from re-entering the country after once leaving it.

National Cat Week Follows Hat Week But Boyle Pulls for a National Shoe Week

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) was going to let National Hat Week pass by this year with no more than a tip of my beret.

Then I received the following letter from the Hat Research Foundation:

"All over the globe white men, brown men, yellow men, black men are... accumulating the hidden things that are processed into the hat."

"They are shouldering through sandstorms in Australia to trap rabbits; snow-shoeing under the going the way of the vest and high boots; shoes and even magicians will have to find something else to pull their rabbits from."

But a few figures tend to knock the hat. Continued on Page Four

Rain Drenches Good Portion of the U. S.

By United Press
Rain swept eastward from the Great Lakes and upper Ohio Valley today, drenching Southern New England and the Mid Atlantic states.

Elsewhere skies were fair with temperatures below freezing early today over portions of the Mississippi Valley.

Heaviest rains fell along the East Coast, Boston, Providence, R. I., Hartford, Mass., Baltimore, Md., and Washington all received over an inch.

New York was soaked with 2.69 inches in a 24-hour period ending this morning.

But Indiana, where the problem was lack of rain, reduced water pressure forced closing of six Kokomo grade schools yesterday. Engineers said it might take two weeks of steady rain to improve the situation.

Some early morning readings showed temperatures had skidded to 28 degrees at Bradford, Ill., 21 degrees at Pellston, Mich., and 25 at Rochester, Minn.

New York had a 62 degree and San Francisco recorded 52 degrees.

Search for Missing Girl Goes to Texas

LA CROSSE, Wis. (UP) — The search for 15-year-old Evelyn Hartley, feared kidnapped by a sex maniac, turned to Texas today as police here admitted their investigation had reached a "stone wall."

A carhop waitress told officers at San Antonio, Tex., that she served a couple in a car last night and that the girl looked like Evelyn, who disappeared Saturday from a home where she was working as a babysitter.

The San Antonio carhop, Mrs. Jackie Clark, said the driver of the car was a soldier who asked directions to Fort Sam Houston.

Mrs. Clark said the car bore Louisiana license 62-392 but authorities at New Orleans said Louisiana numbers didn't go that high.

Police were puzzled because Evelyn's father, Richard Hartley, once taught at Lamar State College of Technology in Beaumont, Tex., near the Louisiana border. He transferred from there to an Illinois college before taking an instructorship at La Crosse State Teachers.

At a news conference here today, Police Chief George Long said the investigation had hit a "stone wall."

Ike Favors Election of All GOPs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said today President Eisenhower favors the election of all candidates running for office on the Republican ticket — and that goes for Paul Troost, candidate for governor of New Jersey.

This came from Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hager, in elaboration on a discussion of politics at Eisenhower's news-conference yesterday.

Hager said he has received numerous inquiries from newsmen as to whether Eisenhower was taking a slap yesterday at Troost or other party candidates.

The President was asked yesterday whether, at the time his picture was taken with Troost in New Jersey, he was not thinking of the entire stat.

Little Rock Dairies to Hike Prices

LITTLE ROCK (AP) Dairies in the Greater Little Rock area will increase their wholesale and retail prices on milk on Oct. 24.

The dairies announced the price increase today. They claimed that higher operating costs forced them to take the action.

A two-cent increase will be made on retail and wholesale prices of cream, but the price of buttermilk will not be raised.

New milk prices in Little Rock will be 23 cents a quart for homogenized and regular sweet milk; 25 cents for a half pint of single cream, and 33 cents for a half pint of double cream.

Earlier this week, three major Little Rock dairies increased the price of a loaf of bread by a penny, from 17 to 18 cents. That increase, imposed on Wonder, Colonial and Meyer's bread, affected the entire stat.

Hay Resurvey Asked for All Counties

LITTLE ROCK (AP) State Sen. Marvin Melton of Jonesboro has been asked to resurvey and restudy the plight of 21 Arkansas counties hit out of the drought relief program.

"These counties," Melton said, "are not eligible for reduced freight rates on hay shipments."

Melton is Gov. Cherry's representative to set up a program for distribution of hay to drought-stricken Arkansas farmers.

Earlier, the Associated Press had reported erroneously the 21 counties would get hay at half the regular freight rates, but would not get federal subsidies.

Melton also said that eligible Arkansas farmers — 34 counties have been designated as entitled to the benefits — will be permitted to order up to 60 days' supply of hay at a time.

The Jonesboro senator said a state co-ordinator will relay orders for hay from counties to commercial sellers or to a special state buyer who may, be stationed in Kansas City.

Farmers in the 54 eligible counties, said Melton, will place their orders for hay with local retailers, after the orders have been approved by their county drought committees.

Anti-Reds May Have Agreed to Be Interviewed

By FORREST EDWARDS

PANMUNJOM (AP) — The promise of a surprising announcement to Moscow touched off reports here today that balky anti-Communist Korean prisoners have agreed to abandon their stubborn refusal to attend interviews with Red explainers.

Communist reminders that the Koreans are forced to attend at gunpoint if necessary — have all but wrecked the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission.

Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, Indian chairman of the deadlocked commission, touched off the speculation with a cryptic statement that he would have a "surprising" announcement Friday.

Neither Thimayya nor other Indian officers would amplify his remarks.

But a reliable source said the announcement would concern the reluctant 7,000 Korean prisoners.

Their agreement to attend Red efforts to persuade them to return to their Red-dominated homelands would be a major victory for Thimayya. The Indian general has fought to prevent a blowup of the NNRC while striving to convince North Korean POWs they should attend.

Explanations have been stalled 10 days.

A surprising announcement could, of course, take several other forms.

The Communist Polish and Czech members of the deadlocked NNRC could drop their demand that Indian troops use whatever force necessary to make the North Koreans attend explanations.

The Swiss and Swedish members could drop their opposition to us-

Strike Looms Against New York Papers

NEW YORK (AP) — A strike against major metropolitan New York newspapers at midnight Saturday has been voted by more than 2,000 members of the Newspaper and Mail Deliverers Union of New York City and vicinity.

The union announced that all-day balloting yesterday resulted in 1,981 votes for a strike and 84 opposed. Its members prepare the papers for mailing or deliver them to the newstands.

The strike vote was taken after officials of the Independent Union charged that the New York City Publishers Association had failed to make any offer during prolonged contract negotiations. There were no immediate comment from the association.

The union is seeking an unspecified pay increase, a pension fund and other benefits. Sam Feldman, union president, said the present wage is $30.42 for a 37 to 40-hour week. The union wants a 35-hour week.

Costello Leaves Prison in Cadillac

MILAN, Mich. (UP) Gambler Frank Costello drove to freedom from the federal prison here in a new black Cadillac limousine today, but his freedom may be short-lived.

To reporters his only words were "Please leave me alone."

He still faces civil and criminal charges of income tax evasion and denaturalization proceedings that may send him back to his native Italy.

The "kingspin or organized gambling in America," was released at 8:00 a. m. (EST) after serving 12 months on a contempt of congress charge.

Tanned and dapper in a day pin-striped suit and Frumburg hat Costello climbed into the car and a chauffeur and three other persons were waiting for him, one of whom was identified as his wife.

Big Three to Urge Rebuke for Israel

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The Western Big Three were reported today to urge a U.N. Security Council Big Three against Israel for the recent border killings in an adjoining Arab village, and to call for more U. N. "watch-dogs" in the trouble areas.

Israel Chief Delegate Abba S. Eban also served notice he intends to go over the whole Middle East security question before the council today. Eban accused the Arab states last night of "convinced to keep up tension in Palestine."

Western sources said Britain, France and the United States would submit a resolution to the council late today, denouncing the armed Israeli raid on the Jordan village of Kibya which cost 83 Arab lives. They said the resolution also would call for more true supervisors in Palestine.

Dispatches from London said the Big Three were considering asking for an automatic arms embargo against whichever side the council finds guilty of violating the truce agreements in the future.

One U. N. source said if truce violations were labeled formal aggressions the embargo would follow anyway.

Compromise in Korea Peace Possibility

By FRANK JORDAN

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UP) — United Nations and Communist negotiators looked to Washington and Peking today for a compromise in settling up the Korean peace conference after an "allied new formula" failed to break a deadlock over neutral participation.

United States Special Ambassador Arthur H. Dean proposed at the fourth day of preliminary talks today that the issue of neutral participation at the peace conference be set aside and the time and place for the main talks be discussed.

The North Korean and Chinese Communists ignored the new Allied proposal, apparently because they lacked authorization to discuss it.

Dr. Benson of Harding to Speak Here

Dr. George S. Benson, president of Harding College, will be guest speaker here Tuesday at a joint meeting of the Lions, Rotary and Kiwanis clubs.

A native Oklahoman, Dr. Benson did foreign mission work for 25 years. He accepted presidency of Harding College in 1938 and that school's College National Education Program is carried by radio to some 26 million listeners weekly.

The subject of many fine news-papers and magazine articles, Philip Rose said this of Dr. Benson in a Saturday Evening Post article:

"I came away from my visit with Dr. Benson feeling that here is a man who is sound and good to the core. He is basic American. He draws inspiration from his founding fathers of the Republic, from truths of history and from Bible. He wants America to rededicate itself to human freedoms, divest itself of all foreign ideologies, and resume its march forward."

Dr. Benson will be introduced by Guy E. Basyo. A limited number of tickets will be available to non-club members. These may be secured by contacting Jim Cole, Bill Gentry or Sybilie Burke by Saturday noon.

Everyone has his boiling point and the thundering hawks of those marginal producers and job-seekers' Commission is too much fuel not to boil.

I guess it's just that the American people have become accustomed to our socialist, communist government of the past twenty years. Everytime some misfortune comes to an individual or a group, the first remedy thought of is to involve as many others as possible. With the individual, if his unsured property burns, he gets someone to collect a community collection to replace the property and thus, at the expense of his neighbors, reaps the benefits of insurance without the burden of paying the premiums. The public neighbors are entirely to blame, of course, because with each donation they are destroying the incentive of self-help. In this case, the carrying of insurance.

The same is no less true of the glibble consumers of American farm products. The old reliable law of supply and demand has now brought a decline from the unusually high prices of our farm products and many of the marginal producers are not making a profit. So they cry for help and to the detriment of everyone else, our government gives them feed, paid for by tax money, the consumers' tax money, being spent to maintain a price above that dictated by the natural law of supply and demand, so that the consumer will have to pay more to buy the product.

But whose to blame? Surely not the marginal producers who only want to remain high cost producers of tax supported surplus farm products. It is only the glibble consumers who fail to voice, to his governmental representatives, his objection to arbitrary prices, thus effectively destroying the incentive of self-help. But why should a producer be telling the consumers these things? Guess I'm the glibble one!

Geil Actually Gophers' Workhorse

NEW YORK — His performance against Michigan's favored Wolverines last Saturday made everyone sit up and take notice of Minnesota's Paul Geil. Actually, however, this hard-running senior has been the Gophers' workhorse for three years now.

Geil has moved the ball a total of 189 times this year and with four games still to go, including Saturday's tussle with Pittsburgh, he is within reach of the three-year varsity record of 699 set by Texas Christian's Lindy Berry in 1948-49. Paul's been in 900 plays during his college career, with 37 in 1951 and 374 in 1952.

He has moved the ball further than anyone else in the major college football competition this year — 1,070 yards, official figures released by the N.C.A.A. showed today. He's gained 742 yards from scrimmage on runs and passes, 250 yards on punt and kickoff returns, 53 on pass interceptions and 19 on passes caught.

Royal Greece Couple Paying U. S. a Visit

By RUTH GMEINER

WASHINGTON (UP) — King Paul and Queen Frederika of Greece were caught up in a whirl of statecraft and state activities today after an overnight stay in the White House with President and Mrs. Eisenhower.

The royal couple moved from the executive mansion across the street to Blair House, official residence for important state visitors, early this morning before backing on the crowded schedule of their first day in Washington. The schedule called for a trip to Mt. Vernon and Arlington Cemetery, a press luncheon, state reception and a dinner tonight given by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

The six-foot-three-inch monarch and his petite consort appeared overwhelmed by the cheering reception they received on their arrival in the capital late yesterday. But Frederika quickly regained her natural vivacity and Paul his relaxed manner in the warmth of the Eisenhower hospitality at last night's state banquet in the White House.

The couple's state visit here will last until Saturday noon when they will start out on a month-long good will tour across the nation.

Some members of the Greek community recalled the fact that Mr. Eisenhower waited to greet the king and queen at the White House instead of going to the airport as former President Truman did when Elizabeth and Philip of England visited Washington in 1951.

But Paul and Frederika, who are known for their democratic informality, seemed unaware of any change in protocol as they exchanged warm greetings with the President and his lady off the back door of the White House.

The chief executive recalled that he and Mrs. Eisenhower visited the royal pair in Athens two years ago when he was commander of the North Atlantic Treaty forces and said he hoped they would find as much pleasure in our home as we did in yours.

Malenkov Talk Doesn't Mean Peace

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29. — President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles seem to be trying to make the world believe that a peaceful talk with Soviet Premier Malenkov might bring about peace. As is obvious from reported public statements, they regard the idea as a vain and dangerous illusion.

Despite the fact that the conference yesterday seemed to definite peace, the conference is actually a long and painful process to grow out of the months of dispute because of the repeated proposals of British Prime Minister Churchill for an armistice with the Soviet Union.

Malenkov has been asked questions about the possibility of such a meeting with a greater frequency than any other subject. Dulles, similarly, has been asked questions about the possibility of such a meeting with a greater frequency than any other subject.

Together, Eisenhower and Dulles have had consistently to reckon with public opinion and the intense pressure for a miracle of peace which creates political pressures, especially in England and Western Europe.

Woman Awarded a Wealthy Cat

ALBANY, N. Y. (UPI) — Miss Jane Freeman, 21, will get a 7-year-old black cat today and won't have any worries about buying it milk and food.

The cat, Tommy, was owned by Mrs. Lina Ruth Rankin, 70, widow of a farmer, who died Aug. 31. She left a $100 trust fund for her pet, the amount of which was to go to whoever gave Tommy a good home. Several people applied, but Mrs. Rankin's lawyer decided on Miss Freeman, who had asked for Tommy before Mrs. Rankin's will was filed.

One Way to Escape Objectionable Date

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Paris Ray heard a pole in the kitchen of his suburban home early today, grabbed his gun and approached warily. There stood the intruder — a beautiful girl.

Startled, he called the police. Sheriff Jimmie Thompson noticed the girl as Elaine Huber, 23, Cincinnati, an airline stewardess.

Thompson said Miss Huber told officers her date had become objectionable so she left his car and fled into the unlocked house. He said Miss Huber refused to answer her date's Ray declined to prosecute.

Leahy Takes Cue From Rockne

NEW YORK — Knute Rockne's whispered encouragements over a telephone from his home half a continent away inspired Notre Dame to a 14-7 football victory over Navy in 1929. There could be another such tense dressing room scene Saturday before the Irish and the Midwesterners meet for the 27th time.

Coach Frank Leahy a tackle for the 28 Irish who heard the dying Rockne's words, may have to talk to his team in a similar manner due to a muscular spasm attack which struck him during last week's game with Georgia Tech.

At any rate the upset-minded sailors must buck a "win this one for the coach" spirit when they tangle with Notre Dame at South Bend.

Baylor's Smith Is About the Best

WACO, Tex. (AP) — They swear big James Ray Smith is so modest that when he ambles across the campus at Baylor University only a handful of students know who he is.

The dog, says the man's best friend, but the best friend of men's hats today is the American. On a poll of 100 women, says the Hat Research Foundation, showed that 4 believed a man should wear a hat at least some of the time. A majority thought he ought to wear one to work.

The foundation also found that only one out of seven women had influenced her best friend to give up hats and bare his curls to the breeze.

Do hat salesmen like to have a husband bring his wife along when he buys a hat? They do. Indeed, in eight out of 10 such cases the hat buyer said. But if a husband buys one by himself more often than not he returns it sheepishly saying, "We didn't like it. Let me try another one."

for Al Smith, President Eisenhower Franklin D. Roosevelt, were 7 1/2 inches long this year repeated in 1953 as it which is most likely to be a family — the same size had reigned for 130 years.

You never wonder what Eisenhower has under his head next, but it's no secret the size is 7 1/2, the same as Woodrow Wilson's.

The Republican party holds the honors for both the smallest and largest presidential heads since the hat was worn by George Washington. In 1906, to James A. Garfield and William Howard Taft, both at 7 1/2, Calvin Coolidge, and William McKinley had the smallest heads in the White House since Hayes matched at 7.

But, Teddy Roosevelt, creator of the phrase, "My hat is in the ring," and his distant cousin, on growing a size 7 1/2 head. That'll grow the odds in his favor. We'll have to leave the question of how big he should let his feet grow until we get to national Shoe Week. We're doing nothing but honoring our hat this week except for a bit of preliminary punning to tune us up on national Hat Week, starting Sunday.

Chrysler Uses Newspapers to Advertise

The greatest newspaper advertising campaign in Chrysler's 30-year history will use more than 3,300 newspapers for the 1954 Chrysler new model announcement program, reports John H. Caron, advertising manager, Chrysler Division, Chrysler Corporation.

"In addition to using the most powerful advertising in the 30-year history of the Company, Chrysler, throughout the 1954 model year, will advertise more frequently and use larger ads than ever before," Caron said.

The newspapers to be used in the announcement have a combined circulation of 62,000,000 and were chosen to obtain maximum circulation penetration into the 3,000 counties in the U.S. that are served by Chrysler's 3,500 dealers.

Caron said that this year $22,000,000 families will be reached in the Chrysler announcement program through the use of Sunday supplements carrying four-color pages in this week, American Weekly an independent supplement.

"Added to this tremendous campaign will be the impact produced by the biggest national magazine announcement and follow-up advertising campaign we have ever used," Caron said.

"The announcement campaign in newspapers and magazines will constitute the first of a whole new family of beautiful Chrysler ads designed to sell the beauty, safety, power and performance of the great 1954 Chryslers. These ads will highlight Chrysler's new beauty, the new 235-horsepower FirePower V-8 engine and new fully-automatic PowerFlite transmission to name only three of the 61 new features found in Chrysler for 1954."

The magazine campaign, emphasizing that "The Power Of Leadership Is Yours With Chrysler," will open with seven top national magazines including The Saturday Evening Post, Life, Colliers, Look, Newsweek and U. S. News and World. House Beautiful, House and Garden, Town and Country, New Yorkers, Junior League, DAC News, Social Spectator, Progressive Farmer, Farm Journal and Town Journal. Black and white announcement ads will be used in a selected list of automotive trade magazine.

"In order to add impact announcement, radio and television spots will be used by dealers throughout the United States to bring visitors in to see the new Chrysler," Caron said.

"To keep this campaign moving at a sharply competitive pace, Chrysler will begin a nation-wide outdoor poster showing early in the spring." Caron said that many sales helps have been designed to aid Chrysler dealers in the 1954 sales campaign. Among these helps will be a tie-in with Chrysler's television show, Medallion Theatre, which will support the nation-wide announcement; radio and TV spots help build up showroom traffic; mailing 1,000,000 owners and prospects of a special issue of Chrysler Events magazine; movie trailers in full color; outdoor posters; neon window signs featuring PowerFlite transmission, power brakes and power steering; sales literature, including a full-line folder; Windsor DeLuxe, New Yorker and Imperial catalogs and a mechanical booklet; a variety of outstanding window and showroom posters; high-quality lithograph prints of 1954 cars for showroom decoration; sales training material which will enable the dealer to sell competitively; slide films; postcards; miniature scale model cars; calendars; showroom banners; in-

Democrats Plan to Blast Mr. Wilson

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson will be in the main target area when the Democrats start blasting the Eisenhower administration in 1954, a congressional election year.

Enough Democrats already have said enough to indicate their party's period of sweetness and light toward the administration, an unnatural condition at best, is about over.

No doubt, Sen. Symington of Missouri will be in one of the Democrats' forward positions when the full assault begins. Months ago this former secretary of the Air Force started firing a "Flock of verbal guided missiles" at the administration in general and Wilson in particular.

Symington's main peeve against Wilson has been the five-billion-dollar cut in the Air Force which Wilson piloted through Congress this year. Wilson may have the job of trying to cut defense expenses some more next year, too.

Since 1954 is an election year, with control of Congress at stake, the Eisenhower administration would find it handy to have a magic formula for regaling the voters with:

A big tax cut for everyone, individuals and corporations; at the same time expenses reduced to balance the budget; and still enough money spent on defense to keep the country amply protected.

Privately the administration already may have abandoned hope of doing any such thing; defense costs are the biggest part of the budget and cutting them enough to balance it might endanger the country.

Yet the whole administration will be looking to Wilson to cut defense costs where he can, with safety. Safety is not only a nice word but a vague one.

It's the word which Symington and other Democrats can employ to give Wilson a hard time—when he appears before Congress to explain how much money he needs and doesn't need for defense—with questions like these:

Where does safety stop and danger begin when it is known the Russians are working on the hydrogen bomb? And are Wilson's proposed cuts in defense spending an attempt to economize at the risk of safety?

When Wilson was president of General Motors he could run things his own way so long as he kept the Board of Directors happy with a yearly report of healthy profits, which he did.

He found as defense secretary his every known move was open to public scrutiny and congressional inquiry, not all of it friendly and some of it hostile.

This week Symington one of his most constant critics, said: "It becomes steadily more apparent that some of the so-called big businessmen brought into Washington to 'straighten things out' have no basic knowledge of, or respect for, the system of checks and balances between the executive and legislative branches of our government."

Symington said the administration went back on a pledge by Wilson that no combat planes would be eliminated by a cut in Air Force appropriations, and added: "What right have those appointed—not elected—government servants to hoodwink the Congress and the people in this manner?"

Wilson himself disclosed yesterday someone in the Eisenhower administration has just saved him from a congressional roar—certainly Democratic and almost certainly Republican—the like of which he never heard before.

He said he was overruled—perhaps by the Budget Bureau or the National Security Council—when he proposed giving to Congress in January a single sentence estimate first and provide details later.

But at the start of every year the administration, with a few exceptions, traditionally has provided Congress with an extremely detailed budget for all its agencies and departments.

In this way not only Congress but the public can see where a department intends its spending public funds.

New Heart Operation Is Disclosed

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A dramatic new heart operation that cures coronary thrombosis by converting veins into arteries was described to the Southern Homeopathic Medical Association here yesterday.

Dr. William Likoff, associate professor of cardiovascular surgery at the Hahnemann Medical College in Philadelphia, said the operation had proved 83 per cent successful in the 42 cases tested. He said patients returned to normal life following surgery.

Homeopathic surgeons from the United States and Latin America are attending a two-day convention which opened yesterday. Homeopathy is a branch of medicine which treats illness through the administration of special drugs and medications.

Advising and a plan book outlining to the dealer proper procedure in organizing his group for maximum sales.

WANNA GET AHEAD?—Lying crated, but cracked, in a Poughkeepsie, N. Y., contractor's yard is this huge plaster-and-ceramic statue of Abraham Lincoln, the work of famed sculptor George Gray. He died in 1938. Its owner, Mrs. Barbara Gray, said she will give the statue to the National Sculpture Society. That's her husband, H. Wilbur Campbell, beside the head.

Two Children Asphyxiated

DUBUQUE, I. (AP)—Two babies were asphyxiated and their sleeping 19-year-old father was overcome when the children apparently opened gas jets on a kitchen stove.

The mother, Mrs. Clarence Krueger, found 19-month-old Jerry and eight-month-old Deborah dead in the kitchen when she returned from a visit.

Krueger had collapsed halfway between a bedroom and the kitchen. He was taken to a hospital and reported in "critical condition."

Authorities said six jets had been turned on. Jerry had been repeatedly corrected for turning on the burners, she said.

Says U. S. to Help Disabled, Aged More

MIAMI BEACH (AP)—Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, secretary of health, education and welfare, said the government is considering a broader program to help the disabled and aged, but states must pay more of the cost.

"Your national government is looking forward, not backward," she told a conference at the National Rehabilitation Association last night. "If we're to build or fix the years ahead, we must look to the states."

Mrs. Hobby said her department has been considering "for some time" the federal legislation that would be needed to extend a program of vocational rehabilitation to more disabled people.

But the program now gets about three-fourths of its financing from the federal government in contrast to less than one-third the Federal government put up when the program was started 32 years ago.

"I am convinced that we can create—despite the pressing defense problems of today—a basis of improving the way of life for all Americans," she said, if states "assume a greater share of financing the program."

Mrs. Hobby said there are today about 2,000,000 disabled persons who need help.

Don't Take It for Granted!

Ike's Press Conferences Are Longer

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — Although President Eisenhower is averaging fewer than one fourth as many news conferences as President Truman, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerly says Eisenhower's last time as long.

Between the time he returned to this country in June, 1952 to campaign for the presidency and Jan. 20, 1953, when he was inaugurated, Eisenhower showed small taste for news conferences. He held only a few up to election day and only one afterwards, a limited conference in Korea.

In the weeks immediately preceding his inauguration there were reports he was thinking of abolishing news conferences and, instead, making regular reports to the nation on radio and TV. This wasn't received well and, if ever considered at all, was soon dropped.

The news conference, as conducted by Roosevelt and Truman had become a valuable American institution in the best democratic sense, giving the public, through the newspaper, a regular opportunity to quiz the Chief Executive, thus providing him with a constant reminder of his responsibility to the people and keeping him from becoming too aloof or secretive.

It had benefit for the President, too, by giving him a chance to learn what was uppermost in the American mind and what the public reaction was to the moves he had made or was contemplating. Truman and Roosevelt both enjoyed the rough-and-tumble with the questioning newsmen.

A president who turned his back on news conferences and relied upon carefully prepared radio-TV scripts to keep the people informed would be setting up his own ground rules; he could call his own shots, without any questions, embarrassing or otherwise, being asked.

This was pointed out before Eisenhower stepped into the White House. The day after the inauguration Hagerly told reporters Eisenhower would hold news conferences regularly and that perhaps one of these conferences would be televised once a month.

Eisenhower did not hold a news conference for almost a month after taking office. They have been held irregularly since then. In his 12 White House years, Roosevelt held 998 conferences, an average of 81 a year. In his eight years, Truman held 324, an average of 40 a year.

Last night, in a DuMont TV quiz show where Washington newspaper people questioned Hagerly about White House news policies, the press secretary said Eisenhower has held 17 conferences since Jan. 20. But he said Eisenhower's have averaged about 30 minutes each, or twice as long as Roosevelt's and Truman's.

While this might indicate Eisenhower permits more questioning when he does hold a conference, an analysis of the Eisenhower-Roosevelt-Truman conferences would probably show Eisenhower takes a lot longer to answer questions.

While Roosevelt and Truman sometimes snapped at a reporter, Eisenhower has been more restrained. Where Roosevelt and Truman often declined to answer by saying "No comment," Hagerly said Eisenhower had used the "no comment" reply only once.

Newsmen, however, often prefer a "no comment" to a reply that is general to the point of vagueness.

Whatever happened to the televised news conference which Hagerly talked about last Jan. 21? He said yesterday there is a "good chance" some form of presidential news conference will go on TV before year's end.

Mr. and Mrs. Printiss Ball of Eldorado, Mr. and Mrs. John Williams and family of Camden, Mr. Kelsey Ball of Camden, Miss Loyce Stewart of Little Rock, Mr. John Robert Stewart of Memphis and Mr. and Mrs. Andrews Ranny of Corpus Christi, Texas were the guests Sunday of Mrs. Bob Stewart.

Mr. and Mrs. Human Ackerman, Johnny and Harvey of Little Rock were the guests of Mrs. Thorne Hesterly.

Mr. and Mrs. J.T. Worthington and sons spent Sunday in Shreveport with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Truminnello.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Roby, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd attended the Henderson-Ozark game in Clarksville Saturday evening.

Mrs. H.D. Bullock had as weekend Mr. and Mrs. Ivey Westmoreland of Little Rock.

Shoulders to Tell Tipsters to Grand Jury

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UP) — Former St. Louis Police Lt. Louis Shoulders said today he would tell a federal grand jury who gave him the original tip that led to the arrest of confessed kidnaper-killer Carl Austin Hall.

The burly detective who broke the Bobby Greenlease case with his arrest of Hall and then he signed in a rage over what he called "character assassination" in investigation of the case brushed aside reporters upon his arrival here.

He spoke to them only briefly after emerging from the office of U. S. Dist. Atty. Edward R. Scheuler.

Asked if he had changed his mind about disclosing the identity of his original tipster, Shoulders snapped:

"I never change my mind. Certainly, I'm going to tell. I ever said I would tell them (the grand jurors) who he was."

Shoulders said he was misquoted in the paper, where it was said he would testify but would not identify the source of the tip that led him to the confessed kidnaper-murderer of six-year-old Bobby Greenlease.

Arkansas Actress Hurt in Accident

HOLLYWOOD — Actress Julia Adams, formerly of Little Rock, Ark., was portraying a cave woman when she got bashed on the head yesterday. But not by the traditional Stone Age Club.

A studio spokesman said she struck her head against a protruding rock while being carried by Ben Chapman, made up as a prehistoric creature, during filming of a scene for a picture at Universal-International. Her forehead was cut.

Miss Adams was treated at the studio hospital and sent home.

Although India was a British possession for 150 years, only about 300,000 Indians among the nation's 350 million people speak or write English.

Money Sacks Found in NLR Robbery

NORTH LITTLE ROCK, Mo.

Money sacks containing $30,624 in checks and $1 in cash, stole Monday at sea level but only about day light from a safe at the stockyards office here, were recovered by police today.

The sacks were found by a woman in Park Hill district of North Little Rock. Meanwhile, a man and a woman were arrested in El Dorado and held for questioning in the burglary.

The earth's atmospheric pressure will support about 30 inches of mercury at sea level but only about 19 inches at 13,000 feet.

Old Beliefs

Parts of the St. John's Wort furnished early-day sufferers with cure-alls for all sorts of ailments. Dooms were decorated with the plant on St. John Day in the belief that it kept out evil spirits.

About 37 per cent of the content of Europe is farm land; about 10 percent of North America is farmable; and small percentages of other continents can be farmed.

GOP Political Prestige Up in 3 States

By LYLE C. WILSON

Washington, (UPI)—Republican political prestige, badly damaged this month in Wisconsin, is riding again on a series of elections beginning one week from today in New York, New Jersey and California.

New York and New Jersey came up first on Nov. 3. A majority contest in New York City offers the Republican party a slim chance to win.

Defeat there would not seriously wound the party. An upset Republican victory would be a morale booster at a moment when the Eisenhower administration needs it because of the loss of a congressional seat in Wisconsin.

New York has not elected a mayor on the Republican ticket since 1895, although John P. Mitchell, 1917, and Fiorello H. La Guardia, whose terms spanned 1934-45, were nominations.

It is a different story in New Jersey where successions to a Republican governor and a Republican congressman from the 6th district are to be elected. And in California where another staunchly Republican house seat is up for grabs Nov. 10.

The Republicans must win those two congressional by-elections to hold their own in the House of Representatives and their own isn't much right now. The present house score is: Republicans 218, Democrats 214, Independent 1, vacant 2. The Republican majority is the minimum—one. Even so the party is better off in the house than in the senate where there are only 47 Republicans, two short of a minimum majority.

Not only must the Republicans win to hold their own, they must win to avoid morale-shattering blows. The Republican candidate won New Jersey's 6th last year with almost 64 per cent of the vote cast. High Republican tide in that district was 66.2 per cent of the total vote in 1948 when the Republicans broke through New Deal-Democratic defenses nationally to win control of congress. California's 24th district also has been a safe one for the GOP in the past.

Republican candidates won New Jersey's gubernatorial election in 1940 with 57.9 per cent and in 1949 with 52.2 per cent of the vote cast. Here again, Republican defeat would be a severe jolt to party prestige.

The candidates:
New York, for mayor: Harold Ribicman, Republican; Rudolph Halley, Liberal; Robert F. Wagner, Democrat. Polls favor Wagner.

New Jersey, for governor: Paul L. Tamm, Republican; Robert B. Meyner, Democrat. Clements Ryan, Independent, for congress; George L. Hatfield, Republican; Harrison A. Williams, Jr., Democrat.

California: For congress: Glenys Lipscomb, organization Republican; John Collier, Independent Republican; George Arnold, organization Democrat; Irving Markham, Independent Democrat. Arnold is the son-in-law of columnist Drew Pearson.

COOL HAT—Pretty Nancy Woodruff, of New York, models the "Frost Princess" hat made especially for her reign as Miss Anti-Freeze. The hat is of blue velvet, silver sequins and icicles.

NO SAY "HOW"—SAY "WHEN"—As the sale of alcoholic beverages to Indians becomes legal in the state of Washington, "Tex" MacFarland pours a drink for Robert Jack at a Seattle oasis. So far, no reports have been made of Indians going on the warpath because of overindulgence in firewater.

DOROTHY DIX

Teen-Age Recreation

Dear Miss Dix: Although most of the boys my age, 16, have been playing pool for the past few years, I didn't begin playing until recently. A few days ago my father discovered somehow that I had been going to a poolroom and I explained that I enjoy the game. He still insists that I don't want to go to poolrooms, even though I go with my own friends. I'd like your idea since this subject is developing into a family argument.

Poolrooms Not For Teen-Agers

Answer: Poolrooms and other places of amusement patronized chiefly by adults should not be frequented by teenagers. Each group should have its own recreational facilities, and overlapping is not advised. When teenagers trespass on the territory of adults, the latter group is apt to be annoyed, and the youngsters frequently pick up information beyond their years. Your friends should have a place of their own for fun. Since you like pool and billiards, which I grant are interesting games, why not go about setting up your recreation quarters? Perhaps a church, or a civic group will give you the use of a room; if not, scout among your friends and find someone with an attic or basement space to donate. You won't have to look far, since almost every one today is very conscious of adolescent needs. Then agree on some means of raising money for equipment. There are lots of things youngsters can do to earn spare money. In fact, the money you now spend in a poolroom could be used to outfit your quarters. I'm sure the parents of your friends feel the same way your father does, and they'll all willingly lend a hand to get you boys into a more suitable atmosphere.

Dear Miss Dix: Recently I met a young man who had not been long in this country. A few days ago he returned to his native land on business. I would like to write to him but my mother thinks it would not be proper on such a short friendship.

Answer: Although there's nothing improper about conducting a correspondence on short acquaintance, your mother doubtless has her own reasons for objecting, and therefore her advice should be heeded.

Dear Miss Dix: All my friends in school (we are juniors) talk about marrying as soon as they graduate. I think they are foolish and that they should have some sort of career before marriage. It isn't a case of "sour grapes," either, since I have lots of boy friends. I believe in having fun I'm young, going to college, having a career, then marrying.

Answer: You have a very sensible outlook, but many girls can't keep Cupid waiting that long. There are several practical reasons why a girl should have some sort of business training before marrying, but economic factors are involved also. College education is expensive. There's a lot to be said for both sides of your question; respect your own judgment.

Spinning Spider

The common house spider has six spinners, each of which is covered with tiny spinning spools, and out of these come jets of liquid silk, hardening instantaneously on exposure to air.

Early settlers in Greenland, more than 1,000 years ago, raised cattle and even some crops, but the climate grew colder and until it became warmer again in recent years, stock raising was impossible.

Accused of Feeding Hubby Arsenic

MERIDEN, Conn. (UPI)—A mother of eight children was accused today of feeding her unsuspecting husband an ounce or 18 months after getting the idea from a television play.

Mrs. Louise H. Staszewski, 48, was held under $25,000 bail on a charge of assault with intent to murder.

Her husband, Anthony, 53, was reported in "fair" condition at Green-N-Haven Community hospital. He was brought there Sept. 29 near death, after complaining for more than a year of pains which had doctors baffled.

State and local police were called into the case a month ago after two stiff members at the Yale Clinic, Drs. Robert Isham and Robert Kelly, and they suspected poison, but added that it might have resulted from Staszewski's work as a silvermith.

Tests of Staszewski's hair and fingernails disclosed that he was "loaded with arsenic," authorities said. Doctors said he is expected to recover but may be permanently disabled.

Mrs. Staszewski, who was arrested late yesterday at her home, where six of her children still live, made a statement which authorities refused to disclose. They said, however, that the statement established a motive.

The haggard woman also was charged said that during her husband's confinement she removed several bonds from his bank de several bonds from them with his name and cashed them.

Police said that Mrs. Staszewski, who has been married 30 years, showed them a bag of plant spray powder, from which the poison came. They said she sprinkled it in his milk.

Says Business Not Paying Full Tax

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—State Revenue Commissioner Vance Scurluck said today that 20 per cent of Arkansas' businessmen are not paying as much sales tax to the state as they should.

Scurluck told a reporter that it would be impossible to estimate the loss in dollars and cents.

The revenue commissioner made the statement as he announced that a two-day conference would be held here for the department's field auditors to develop "consistency" in auditing reports.

The people of Greenland only recently adopted a money economy, having previously lived through the barter of goods.

State Hospital Head Resigns

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—Dr. Cleve C. Odum resigned as superintendent of the Arkansas State Hospital last night because of his relationship with the board of directors.

Odum, in his letter of resignation, cited personal reasons as his cause for leaving the hospital after two years as superintendent.

However, he told newsmen that the "board's relationship with the superintendent is such that it is considered to be incompatible with the best care and treatment of the mentally ill patients at the State Hospital."
